

World Sweeping Association to Host First-Ever Independent 'Sweeper Roundup'™

The World Sweeping Association proudly announces it will sponsor America's first manufacturer-independent "Sweeper Roundup" in 2017. The event will be held this September 15-17 in Kansas City, Missouri.

Gale Holsman, WSA Advisory Board Member and owner of American Sweeping, Inc., will be the host contractor for this sweeping-only conference.

"Our upcoming Sweeper Roundup will welcome everyone in the sweeping industry," said Ranger Kidwell-Ross, Director of WSA and Editor of WorldSweeper. "We will be providing four educational seminars, as well as a Sweepers' Roundtable to kick around whatever topics attending contractors would like to discuss with seasoned contractors and attending manufacturers' representatives.

"There will also be an available demonstration area for manufacturers to show off their latest models of sweepers. In addition, we are planning other events designed to develop camaraderie among power sweeping contractor attendees. These will include a zany Sweeper Rodeo as well as a Saturday night BBQ and live music event – complete with hay rides – at the nearby 200-acre Holsman Stables complex."

For sweeping contractors, the investment for attendance will be a modest $99 in addition to whatever travel and lodging expenses are incurred. WSA will promote this event widely over the next months with complete details. For the moment, we are providing this initial information so you can hold the September 15-17 dates on your calendar.

If you are not yet a member of WSA and want to know more about the many benefits the world's fastest-growing sweeping Association offers, go the the WSA website to review benefits and join. Your investment is only $325/year; satisfaction guaranteed!
